

The next day, Daniël eagerly walks up towards his friend's house as his mother drops him off and drives off. Still nervous about having to wear diapers at his friend's sleepover, He checks his bag to see if he hid it well, before knocking on the door.

The door is slowly opened by a nervous five-year-old panther. His diaper is clearly visible as it peeks out of his shorts, and he wears socks as gloves on his paws. "He-hello, you must be my brother's friend." He says as he fidgets with his fingers.

"Yeah, I'm Daniël." The bear introduces himself. "Uh, what's your name?"

"I, I'm Percy" The Panther starts, Before his older brother approaches him and interrupts him.

"Hey Daniël, come on in." an eight-year-old panther named Pierre opens the door.

"Happy birthday Pierre!" Daniël congratulates his friend with a hug.

"Thanks." Pierre smiles. "How are you doing?"

"I'm doing well, how about you?" the bear asks.

"Also going good." Pierre says as they went towards the living room. "Do you want something to drink?"

"No thank you." Daniël replies.

"All right then." Pierre says. "Do you want to play a video game until the other's arrive?"

"Sounds fun." Daniël smiles.

"C-can I join?" Percy asks as he does a little potty-dance, but suddenly stops.

"Sure." Pierre says. "But first get changed! There's no reason for you to go in your diaper like a little baby!" Pierre adds in an annoyed tone.

"A-all right." Percy blushes, before looking to find his dad.

"Does your little brother still wear diapers?" Daniël curiously asks.

"Yeah, he has to take some pills for his high-blood pressure, which makes him pee more." Pierre explains. "So he has to wear diapers like a little baby."

"Well he can't help it." Daniël tells him. "So maybe you should stop teasing him."

"But it's not just that he wears diapers." Pierre says. "It's also the fact that he's prone to crying, still afraid of the dark, and is always clingy."

"Well he just looks up to you, you're his big brother after all." Daniël explains.

"I guess you're right." Pierre sighs.

"You know I am." Daniël chuckles.

"It marks the first time you are." the panther teases.

"Not true, How about that time I warned you not to drink a whole bottle of soda before a two hour ride to an amusement park for the school field trip" Daniël says. "You didn't listen to me, and how did that end up?"

"Do you have to bring that up?" Pierre turns red.

"Well not really, but it is fun." the Bear replies.

"How is that fun?" Pierre asks.

"Just the fact that even the biggest and toughest kid in our class still has accidents." Daniël replies.

"Can we talk about something else now?" Pierre asks.

"All right then." Daniël agrees. "One question, why does your brother wear socks on his hands?"

"Oh that, that is to stop him from sucking on his thumb." Pierre explains.

"And does it work?" Daniël asks.

"Yeah, it somehow does." Pierre replies. "Anyway, what game would you like to play?" He asks as he shows Daniël the games on his Nintendo switch.

"Can we play mario kart?" Daniël asks.

"Of course." Pierre nods as he starts the game.

"Which character are you taking?" The bear asks.

"Mario." Pierre replies. "How about you?"

"I think I'll choose toad." Daniël says.

“Great, then we can start right?” Pierre excitedly says.

“Shouldn’t we wait for your little brother?” Daniël asks.

“I guess you’re right.” Pierre sighs again.

After a little while, Percy returns. “What are we playing?”

“We’re playing mario kart.” Pierre explains. “I already selected your kart.”

“Thanks.” Percy smiles.

The other two also select their cart, and start with the first course. Daniël is in the lead, but keeps being attacked by Pierre’s items.

“So, how did that blue shell taste?” Pierre teased.

“Not that great actually, now I’m third.” Daniël says.

“I thought you always said that you were the best?” Pierre chuckles as he overtakes the bear.

“I am, that’s why I’ll win!” Daniël boasts.

“Yeah, you’re definitely winning.” Pierre chuckles.

They continue with the race, and eventually the winner is Pierre.

“See, I told you I would win!” The older panther starts boasting, before being interrupted by the door.

Who is at the door?

1. A 6-year old lynx named Benjamin, who has bladder problems and has to wear diapers, something he’s deeply ashamed of. His parents are very strict about his problem, which affects his behaviour, as this causes him to be extremely skittish and sometimes frightened of others. He’s calm and friendly

2 A 6-year old cheetah named Chester, who’s careless, energetic, and always tries to make others laugh. He doesn’t wear diapers, but is still prone to having accidents, though he doesn’t seem bothered if he has one, and sometimes doesn’t even notice.

(Pierre doesn’t know about either ones problem up front)

(Also, comment if you want one of your characters in the interactive, with the age range being 6-10, and they can have daytime/nighttime accidents (though that doesn't have to happen))
