

It was midday as you walked through the forest path towards a certain destination in the woods. You were going to visit a very close friend that you have had for a long time now. You were very excited to go see her as today the two of you have planned to have you over to her territory for lunch today!

You continued your walk through the woods until you finally reached her territory and walked towards the central area where you knew she resided in and was waiting for you. You walked past some trees and through some large bushes before you spotted her.

There she was, one of your best and closest friends you've ever had. Zenny was her name, she was a large Spinosaurus with mostly black scales with red to yellow stripes, and also red to yellow spines as well.

You smiled as you admired her just sitting around on the grass awaiting your arrival. She was very pretty, and strong as well. You felt so lucky to have made such an amazing friend like her.

With a happy grin, you ran up to her. "Zenny!" You shouted, happy to see her.

Zenny's eyes perked up and a big toothy smile displayed on her face as she saw you running up to her. "[Y/N]!" She shouted back before pulling you into a big warm scaly hug. "So glad to see you made it~!"

"hehe~ of course, I would never refuse a chance to come and see you my friend!" You reply, returning the hug back.

Zenny then leans her head down and nuzzles your face playfully before giving you a big wet lick with her tongue, causing you to giggle. "So, how has my sweet little morsel been~?"

"Good! And what about you my predatory friend?" You ask.

Zenny looks down at you with a grin. "Mmm... I've been well, but I have been hungry, for you~"

You smile back up at her, knowing where this was going. "Let me guess, when you invited me here for lunch, you planned to have me as the lunch~?"

Zenny's grin widens and she gives you another big slimy lick across your face. "hehehe~ You always were a very clever morsel [Y/N]~ My belly has been calling for you all day, let's not keep it waiting anymore, shall we~?"

Carefully and very gently, Zenny picked your entire body up with her claws lifted you in front of her muzzle. She flashed you a toothy smile before slowly opening her large maw in front of you.

Her maw was completely drenched in saliva and you could feel her warm fishy scented breath washing over your face. Zenny laid her tongue over her bottom teeth so that you wouldn't get cut, before pulling your entire body inside. With you fully inside her maw, Zenny shut her maw all around you, sealing you inside.

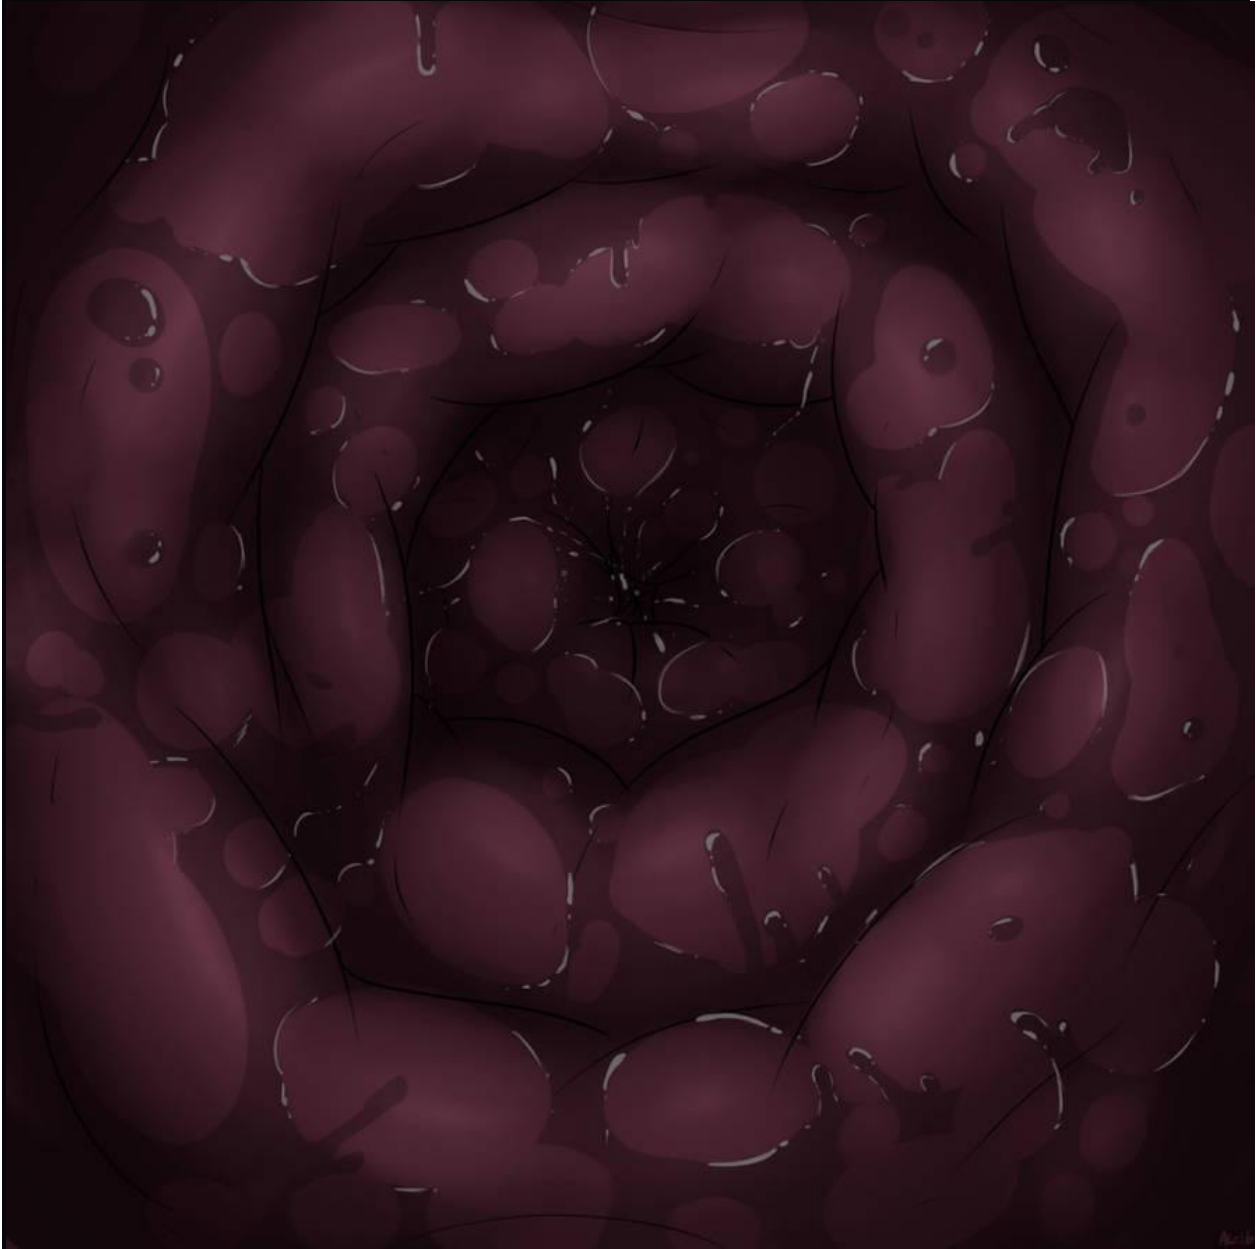

As you laid inside of Zenny's maw, you enjoyed feeling the waves of her warm breath blowing onto your body, You also enjoyed how her breath carried a pleasant fishy and meaty scent of her previous meals with it. Zenny's tongue was very soft and spongy. Her tongue was also completely drenched with Spinosaurus saliva, it was also very warm as well. You also noticed his many very sharp orange teeth and fangs that resided within her maw.

Suddenly, Zenny's tongue started to move, and move you with it. Using her tongue, Zenny squished you against her left cheek before moving you again and pushing you against her right cheek. She continued to swish you back and forth in his mouth for a while, with you enjoying every second of it. After a couple minutes she stopped, and then she started to bounce you up and down on her tongue, you laughed as you enjoyed the ride Zenny was giving you, she even trapped you on the roof of her maw for moment letting you stick, before letting go and letting you land with a wet 'splat' on her tongue.

Soon, you felt gravity shift as Zenny tilted her head up into the air, and you suddenly found yourself sliding down her tongue and towards her throat.

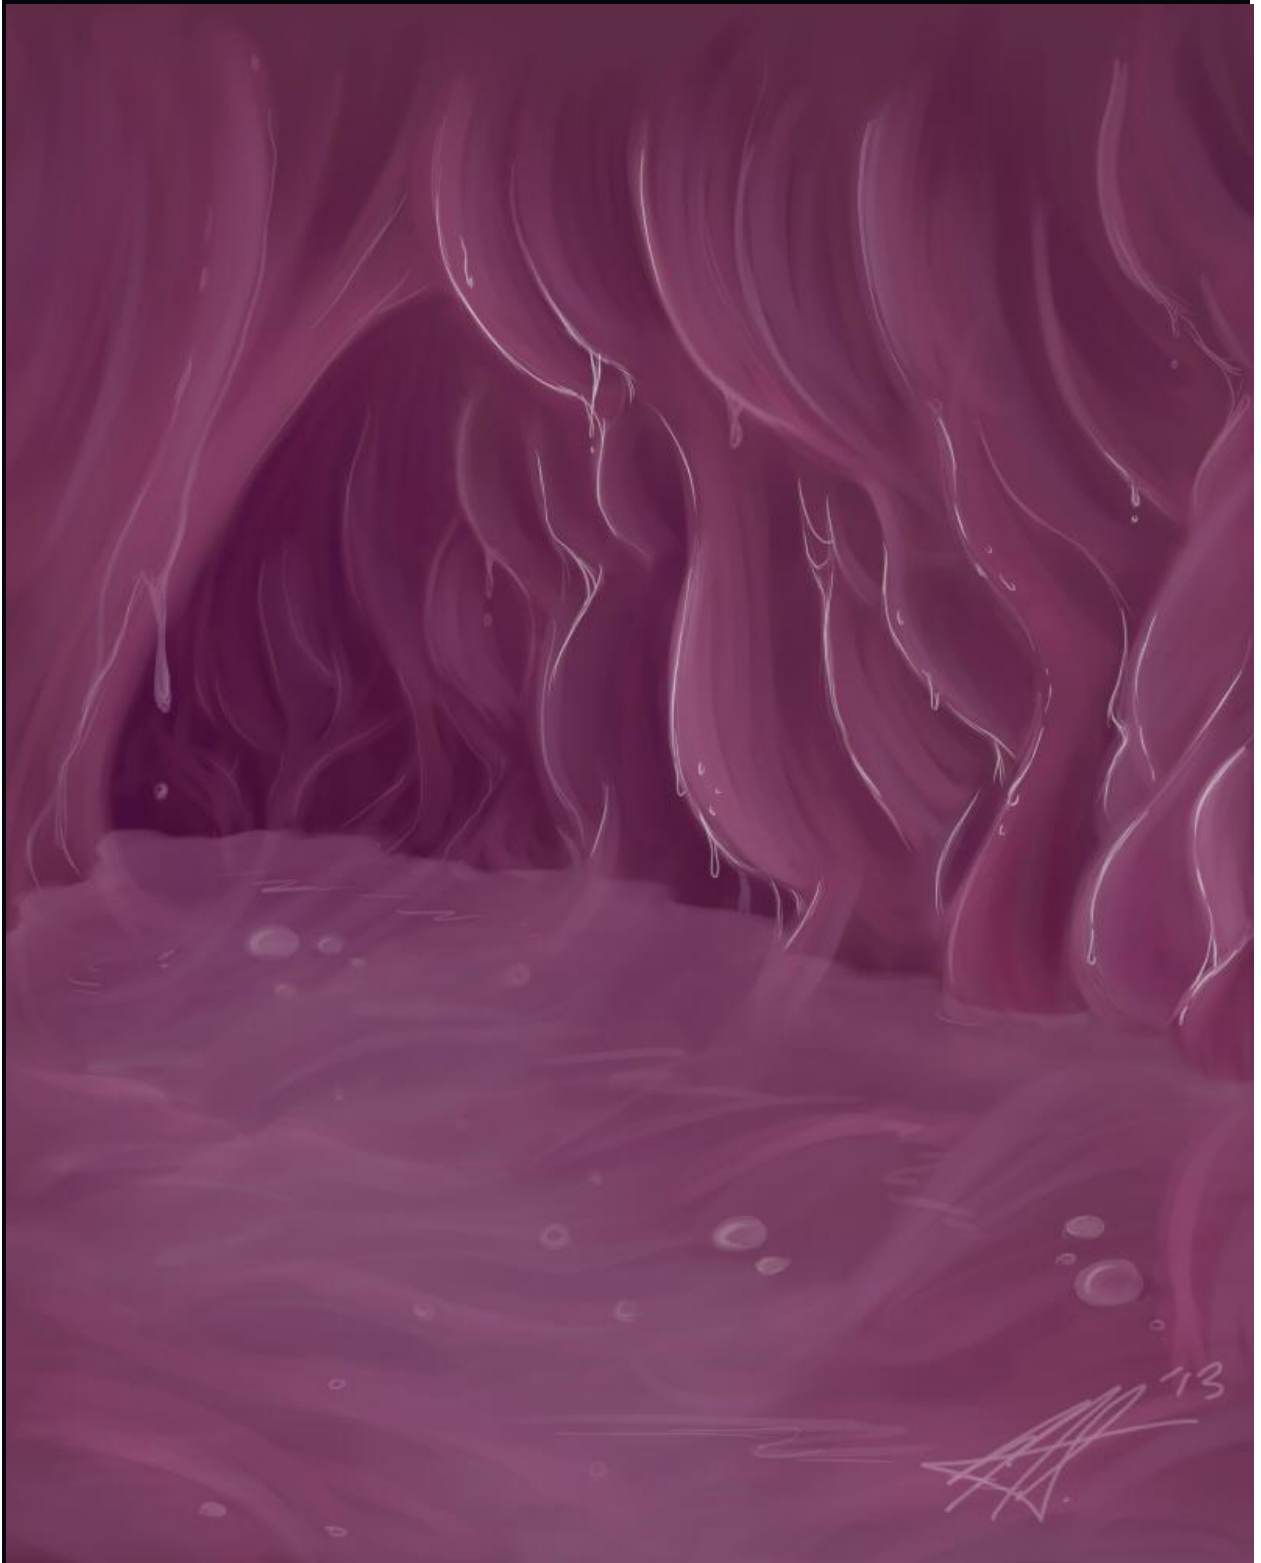

GUUULP

With a single big gulp, Zenny swallowed you whole and sent you down her gullet.

You were now heading down Zenny's throat. You could feel her throat muscles softly but firmly squeeze and push you further and further down. As you were continued down her throat, Zenny was making happy and satisfied noises, clearly enjoying feeling you slide down her throat. On the outside, she was watching as the bulge you made slowly slid down her neck before eventually disappearing into the rest of his big belly. As you started to get closer to Zenny's stomach, you were able to start to hear the sound of her heartbeat become more prominent, as well as her breathing becoming louder, and after a moment, you started to hear soft gurgles and groans coming from her stomach, a sign you were getting close. After another couple moments, you were then abruptly stopped at a small sphincter, before being pushed through it, and finally, you were deposited into Zenny's Stomach.

SPLASH

You landed with a small splash as you landed directly into the pool of bubbling liquids within Zenny's stomach. After taking a moment to get a bearing of your surrounding, you quickly decided to lay back against Zenny's stomach walls and get comfy.

You relaxed inside the pool of liquids inside her stomach, You had no reason to worry as they were completely harmless to you. It felt like laying in a nice warm hot tub. You watched as the stomach walls slowly moved and pulsated around you. You smiled as you enjoyed the warmth and continued to relax in her stomach, and as you did you listen to all of the sounds that accompanied it. you heard Zenny's heartbeat, her breathing, and the soft gurgles and groans of her stomach. With a smile, you moved a hand up to Zenny's stomach walls and give it some nice rubs.

After feeling her sweet little morsel settle inside her belly, Zenny laid down against a tree and enjoy her now full belly, satisfied by her meal. She smiled warmly as she felt the gentle rubs you were giving her from inside her belly and give her stomach a few loving pats in appreciation.

"hehehe~ delectable as always my sweet little morsel~! Are you enjoying it in there~?" Zenny asks kindly.

"You know I always enjoy it here inside your tummy Zenny~" You reply happily.

"good~ because you aren't going to be coming out until tomorrow morning, but I'm sure you probably knew that, didn't you my clever little morsel~?" Zenny said playfully.

You rolled your eyes and grin. "How did I ever guess hehe~"

You and Zenny spent the rest of the day talking and catching up with each other. Soon enough nighttime came around Zenny decided to sleep off her meal for the night. You follow shortly after, falling asleep in what you would deem the comfiest bed in the world. The two of two fell asleep together, your hearts as close as they can be.
