

Heroine Name: Divina
True Name: Synthia Isabella Kovak
Alias: Syn, Lusty, EROS
Age: 25
Sex: Female
DOB: February 28-29, 1989
POB: Waikiki, Oahu, Hawaii
Ethnicity: Czech-Russian-American
Marital Status: Living; Single
Sexual Orientation: Bisexual (no pref)
Species: Field Mouse

Voice: Jessie DiCicco

Height: 4'8"

Weight: Will never tell!

Eye color: Sapphire-Blue

Hair Color: Dark-Mauve

Fur Color: Dark-Oak, Light-cream, Lighter-Cream, Black Lines (has two heart-shaped patterns on her right thigh)

Physical Appearance:
Lithe,

Outfits:

White Ancient Greek-style top and shorts, open-foot sandals, golden bracelets and anklets, domino mask. Her hair in a braided ponytail. (Think of a mix between the Muses from Hercules and Pit from Kid Icarus)

Occupation: Anonymous Erotic Author

Areas of Operation: United States

Fighting Styles:

- Close Quarter Combat (CQC)
- Combat Sambo

- Systema
- Staff Fighting

Primarily carried arsenal includes:

- Collapsible Staff
- Smoke Pellets

Personal Transport:

- None

Powers/Abilities:

- Photon Manipulation

Can create and shoot beams or rays of light; she can also create projections of light

- Flight

- Enchanted Strength

- Skilled Gymnast

On the level of Olympic athletes

- Hand-to-hand Combat

- Dancing

- Writing

- Seduction

She can use her beauty as a distraction when the situation calls for it

- Trilingual

Divina can understand and speak fluent Slovakian as well as Russian.

Strengths:

- Works well with others

- Able to read foreign languages (provided if they're Slovakian or Russian)

- Trained in combat by her mother

- Surprisingly enough, is a highly accomplished cook

- Writing skills that nearly rival her mother's

Weaknesses:

- She can get too flustered at times

- Becomes a stuttering mess in the presence of a handsome male or beautiful female

- Has a fear of blood

Bio:

Though she never knew her father, Synthia lived happily with her mother, Athanasia SVĚTLANA Kovak in Hawaii, until they moved to Seattle, Washington State. Growing up, she was picked on a lot due to her mother's fame and reputation, until the day a wolf pup named Charlotte came to defender; a day the young Kovak would never forget. Years went by and Syn made many friends, real friends instead of those wanting to take advantage of her.

One day, during her high school years, Syn was cornered by members of the football team who attempted to sexually assault her, when a bright light came out of nowhere and knocked them unconscious. Confused and afraid, Syn tried in vain to hide what she could do, but her mother found out all the same. It's here that Syn was told that her father was a scientist who studied the effects of photon energy for the Soviet Union and was forced to experiment on her while she was still just a baby. The results were Synthia gaining powers of light that laid dormant for many years and was nearly taken by the Soviets to be used as a soldier/weapon. Her mother, who was a secret agent for Interpol was forced to leave her husband and flee to the United States while he sacrificed himself.

At first, Syn fear what she was, but with encouragement from her mother, she decided to use her powers to protect and defend others. After years of getting the hang of her powers, as well as extensive combat training by a few favors of her mother's; Syn took up the mantle of the heroine Divina. In her spare time, just to pay the rent as she puts it, she works as an erotic fiction writer, like her mother (who is proud of her for following in her footsteps).

Personality:

Syn is a kind-hearted, sociable, yet shy and often soft-spoken, young woman who is striving to find purpose in life. She does possess a big heart and cares for her friends and family like no other would ever believe. Like many others in life, she becomes embarrassed about her mother's escapades, sexual talk in front of her friends and smothering like all mothers do, but loves her all the same.

As Divina, Syn is much more confident and serious as she tries to be professional while on duty. She'll still converse and make merry if she is with friends on the job, but prefers to remain busy until she knows when to stop. It's no different with her ALIAS EROS while writing erotic novels.

Being openly bisexual, she can't help but lust after people she finds attractive, be they hero or villain. She's also known to be a total fangirl regarding anything fantasy, sci-fi, or sci-fantasy related memorabilia.