

Chip's Ref Sheet

- Name: Chip
- Race: White Mouse
- Personality: Shy and nerdy
- Age: 19
- Height: 5' 1"
- Clothes: He wears slightly baggy overalls along with various tees with his favorite games, shows, etc on them. The diapers he likes to wear have the layout of a game controller on the front and the back says "Ready Player 1!" In bold text.
- Design: All white fur except for a small patch of pink, purple, and blue fur up near his shoulder, typically covered by his shirt though. He also has a long tail that occasionally drags on the floor.
- Likes: Card Games, Video Games, and Animes.
- Dislikes: Bullies, loud people, and the outside.
- Back Story: Chip was born to a low-class set of parents. He never minded and was a happy child, but as he grew up he started to develop less popular, more nerdy interests compared to his peers. When he tried to talk about his interests with his classmates they would laugh and bully the poor mouse. As time and the bullying continued, Chip became much more reserved and shy about his interests. Soon he would grow up and move out of home, currently working at a game store but life still keeps him stressed. Looking for ways to relieve the stress, he found the ABDL community and started to take part in it, using it to help his stress and anxiety.