

“Hey Tyler!” I said walking into his house. “Hoi Ry-Ry! How are you?” They said. “That’s good.” I said. “I found this box at a costume shop and I wanted to see if you like to see what they have in it.” I set the box on the table and opened it. “How much was this?” They said. “They shockingly gave it to me for free, meaning it has something TFable in it.” I said. “Main reason why I said yes.” I picked up a garden hoe and twirled it in my hands. “I like this.” I said. “You look like Zardy babe.” Said Tyler. “I bet I do.” I said. As I said that my hoodie started changing from an orange hoodie into a dark purple long sleeve shirt and a short black poncho appeared around my neck with some gold touches on it. “I knew it!” I said “TFable objects!” My pants also went from a black to dark purple and my shoes started turning from light black boots into tan colored farm boots. “Whoa. You really are becoming Zardy!” said Tyler excitedly “Your looking more sexy by the minute” “Babe! Stooooooooooooooooop.” I said. My skin started becoming an orange fabric of some kind starting from my hands and feet but spreading quickly. Brown Gloves appeared on my hands along with a witch hat on my head. “Ooo! Starting to reach the end!” I said as my skin was becoming more fabric like as it reached my head. My mouth got sewn up but I could still open it. “Almost done!” I said in a new deep and demonic voice as my eyes became hollow and turned a glowing yellow along with the inside of my mouth. “This is the coolest TF that has happened to me ever!” I said excitedly. “Yea! You look so cool and hot!” Said Tyler. “Hey. You think I can be Pumpkin Jack?” “Sure!” I said “Here you go. I think they will work.” I gave him 3 big metallic claw gloves he puts on eagerly. Then he starts to change. Their clothes started to change. First his black boots changed to light brown farm boots. Then his shorts turned from black to long brown pants with his fishnet leggings melting together with his shorts. “This is so cool Zardy!” Said Tyler. “I know Pumpkin Jack.” I said patting his head. His light blue t-shirt then turned into a dark brown long sleeve shirt and his dark blue jacket turned into a brown poncho. Afterward his skin turned into stands and clumps of hay & wheat. “This part will hurt OK?” I said holding & rubbing his neck trying to soothe the pain. Tyler then felt something coming out of their neck and then they realized that they were growing roots from their neck like a pumpkin. “Ah! Ow! This hurts.” Said Tyler.

“Almost done babe. Hang on.” I said while stroking their head. Then Tyler's head started to turn into a Pumpkin making his eyes and mouth started to hollow out but they could still talk and see as the insides of their mouth and eyes started to glow yellow. Finally a brown witch's hat appeared on his head out of nowhere and his changes were done. “Whoa! I look so spooky Zardy!” Said Tyler in a new goofy yet scary sounding voice. “I know PJ.” I said kissing him. “Oh! Oh my.” They said kissing back. “Say.” I said. “There's a corn maze nearby and is Spooky Month...Wanna...Scare some people?” I say with an evil grin on my face. Tyler now Pumpkin Jack's face lit up with excitement as they nodded their head excitedly. “Yes! Yes! Let's go scare some people!” They said. I grab my hoe and we run out the door ready to scare some people for halloween.
