

Lopunny Gets Stuck (feat. Pikachu)
Based on fanart by PotateyMatey

Within a dark stony cave, a Lopunny walked in the pitch black silence. She nervously sniffed around, searching for any kind of quick exit. Suddenly, she caught a whiff of fresh air, and she turned towards the cave wall and spotted the tiniest spots of light. She ran over to it quickly, and she poked at the wall. She smiled when she felt soft dirt rather than hard rock.

Eager to get out of the cave Lopunny quickly dug at the dirt, burrowing her way out of the cave. Daylight flooded into the cave, further exciting her, and she quickly dived into the hole she had opened up. First she stuck her arms through the hole, and then pushed her head out. The hole was just big enough for her head and ears, but only barely. Both ears came out with a loud pop, and she wiggled the rest of her body forward.

Lopunny was halfway through the hole when she felt her thighs and bottom rub against the sides of the hole. Her eyes widened as she pushed with her arms, kicking her legs a bit as she tried to move the rest of her body through. However, no matter how hard she pushed, her backside would not go through the hole. It just wouldn't fit.

A few minutes later, a Pikachu who happened to be exploring the cave came across the odd sight of Lopunny's rear and legs sticking out of the cave wall.

“. . .what is this?” Pikachu said as he tried to make sense of what he was seeing.

Back on the outside, Lopunny's ears raised at the sound of the Pikachu. She looked back in vain, unsure of what the newcomer would do. Eventually, Lopunny swallowed her pride and called out, “Hello? Can you help me?! I'm stuck!”

Lopunny kicked her legs a bit as she wiggled her bottom, still trying to get free. Pikachu stared for a moment, not expecting to come across something like this. But he knew he had to do something. So, still unsure of what he could do to free her, Pikachu hopped right on top of Lopunny's bottom.

“Huh. . .That's a bunny butt, alright,” Pikachu remarked.

Lopunny froze as the sensation ran through her. She quickly covered her mouth with her paws, her cheeks blushing as she felt her butt getting tickled by Pikachu's paw steps.

Meanwhile, Pikachu had Lopunny's round tail in his forepaws and was pulling in an attempt to get the bunny loose.

This was too much for Lopunny, as this was her ticklish spot. She slapped the cliffside hard as she burst out into uproarious laughter, utterly unable to hold it in. Pikachu pulled with all of his strength, his feet flat against the inside of the cavern wall. Lopunny's tail was stretched out, and her feet were pushed up against the wall, but Lopunny's body didn't budge an inch out from the hole.

Pikachu let go of the tail and panted in exhaustion, then he jumped off and stared up at Lopunny's rear and legs. Pikachu huffed and grabbed onto Lopunny's left leg and began to pull on that.

Lopunny stopped laughing and made a face. She felt a growing pain in her left thigh as Pikachu tugged on her leg.

"Stop thaaaat! That hurts!" Lopunny whined.

Pikachu didn't answer, but instead continued to pull.

Lopunny frowned and said, "It's no use. It's not working. So STOP!"

POW!

A strong kick from Lopunny sent Pikachu flying across the cave.

"Hmph!" Lopunny said grumpily, then she clenched her fists and said, "Okay. I can do this myself. I. Just. Need. To. Wiggle. Out!"

Lopunny moved her butt back and forth as she spoke, trying to get it to move into the hole and out. But no matter how much or how hard she wiggled, her butt remained stuck.

Meanwhile, Pikachu sat up where he landed after being kicked. He could see Lopunny's butt wiggle back and forth, almost tauntingly.

Pikachu got onto all fours and said. "Okay then. . ." he said, and he narrowed his eyes in focus and concluded, "We'll just do this the hard way."

A flash of electricity sprung to life around Pikachu. It was so bright and powerful that its light shone through the space between Lopunny and the inside of the hole. Lopunny could feel the static race across her fur and tingle her rear. Sweat ran down her head as a sense of fear rose within her. "Maybe I shouldn't have kicked him. . ." she thought.

Pikachu took off running, electricity surrounding him as he charged towards Lopunny. Channeling all of his Electric-type power, Pikachu struck Lopunny's butt with a full force Volt Tackle, his shoulder colliding right underneath Lopunny's tail.

"WAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAH!!!" Lopunny cried out in pain as she felt the full brunt of Pikachu's attack.

Pikachu pressed a cheek into Lopunny's rear, pushing with both paws and saying through clenched teeth, "Come. . . on. . . Get. . .out!"

"STAAAAAAAHHHP!" Lopunny shrieked in agony as electricity arced out of the hole all around her body, "I CAN'T TAKE MUCH MORE OF THIS!"

Pikachu pressed harder, electricity flying as he channeled all of his strength and determination and said, "Hang on. . .Hang on. . . I can feel you movin-!"

POP!

All of a sudden, Lopunny's bottom slipped in about an inch, then squeezed inward just enough to slip right through the hole. Following her bottom were her legs, and then Pikachu right behind her.

Lopunny flipped over and landed flat on her back, while Pikachu fell flat onto his stomach close to her.

The pair lay still, panting with exhaustion for a moment. Finally, Lopunny opened her eyes and said softly, "I'm free. . ." Then she smiled with joy and held her arms up high and shouted, "I'm free! I'm free!"

Pikachu looked up and smiled, "Heh. I don't give up so easily, do I?"

Lopunny rolled over and sat in front of Pikachu. She smiled at him and said, "Oh, thank you so much Pikachu! OH! Um. . . sorry for kicking you?"

Pikachu smiled awkwardly and said, "Sorry for zapping your butt?"

Lopunny just laughed it off and said, "Aw, let's not have any hard feelings. Let's just put it all behind us. Deal?"

Pikachu nodded and said, "Deal!"

The pair shared a good laugh for a while, then sat in comfortable silence for a moment.

". . .So. . . why were you walking in that cave?" Lopunny asked.

"I'm an explorer. I like to seek out places no one else has gone and see what I can see," Pikachu said calmly, then his mood got a little subdued as he added, "It gets a little lonely at times. . ."

Lopunny studied the Pikachu's expression and thought about what he had said. She hummed to herself, then said, "That actually sounds fun and interesting. Definitely not boring, like my life. . ." Her eyes looked left and right nervously, and she asked, "So. . . if you really are lonely. . .could I explore with you?"

Pikachu's eyes widened with hope. "Really? You mean it?"

Lopunny smiled and nodded, her pink eyes meeting Pikachu's dark eyes as she said, "Yes! Yes, I do! I wanna be an explorer with you! Can I?"

Pikachu hopped up to his feet and held out his right forepaw. "Deal!" he shouted.

Lopunny got up to her feet and shook her paw disparagingly at Pikachu's extended paw. "Oh, I don't do pawshakes!" She held her arms out wide and said cheerfully, "I do hugs!"

"Hugs? Cool! I love it!" Pikachu exclaimed in delight.

Lopunny nodded excitedly, and Pikachu leapt towards her chest. Lopunny hugged Pikachu warmly and snuggled with him. They took turns nuzzling each other; Pikachu nuzzling her chin and Lopunny nuzzling his head as she rubbed his back.

This was certainly the beginning of a beautiful friendship, as their journey continues.
