

Some new YCH story commissions are available now. This time, these are in the Beastars universe, but these will be different from the overall manga / anime. There will be 9 of these available, each starting at $10 each! Depending on the # of main characters initially inserted, the price may increase.

YCH 1: Sheila held the old costume in her hands, looking over the old material and the accessories that came with it. It was stuff like this she hated. Though she only did this as a last resort, it still felt meaningless. While she is glad to be out of that life, Sheila wonders about her new real job as a model, working alongside [Your Character Here] in the entertainment industry. Before she could move on, she had a few loose ends to clear up and decided to call [Your Character Here] for some assistance. (Past Master, $10)

YCH 2: "Listen to me Shiraishi, between me you and those goons, one of us has to be a distraction. Now either you run and make a break for it or I will. Now is not the time to be a sitting duck!" Caught up in a shootout between the Shishigumi and another rival faction, Louis and Legoshi had one chance to escape, even if it meant being tagged in the process. Their cars were in a nearby alleyway, and mere yards separated them from life and death. If they could make a mad dash for their cars, they could collectively escape the bottleneck and reach [Your Character Here]. (The Great Escape, $20)

YCH 3: Ellen has been excited to become a police officer. Interestingly enough, her new partner happens to be [Your Character Here], a rookie officer just like her. Soon though, Ellen will later see that being a police officer isn't all that it's cracked up to be, especially without the police chases. (Police 101, $10)

YCH 4: "Uh, who are these guys? Luna, can you and your partner dispatch them? I can't become another casualty to this." Cosmo is taking a Sunday drive in downtown Tokyo, driving her red Honda NSX (NA1). With her is Luna Hiawasee in her yellow Honda NSX (NC1) and [Your Character Here] in a separate vehicle. Cosmo is leading them to a set destination when a series of four black Kia Sorento (MQ4) SUVs suddenly appear out of nowhere and begin hunting the okapi down. Luna joins the fray and ushers her partner along to join her. (Protect Cosmo, $20)

YCH 5: "Between you and me, Louis, the idea of us marrying each other has got to be the absolute worst. There is nothing wrong with treating your cousin to lunch, or dinner for that matter." While Azuki lets Louis in on her inner feelings, Louis taps her and cocks his head in an attempt to point out a suspicious character to her.

Louis could already feel more pressing eyes on him and his cousin, and he leans in closer to whisper, "Me being heir to a large company has nothing to do with how I view my family. With that aside, I believe we have bigger problems to worry about..." (Deer Cousins, $20)

YCH 6: "Durham, I never knew you were into martial arts. You're a wild one for sure, I'll tell you that." Collot was more than surprised to learn that Durham started to take up classes in martial arts, especially Karate and Judo. But what got their attention the most was their instructor, who turned out to be [Your Character Here]. (Karate Dogs, $20)

YCH 7: “Azuki, take your cousin and leave! I’ve already set up a contact and a safehouse where the two of you can lie low in! GO!!!” Oguma fervently ushers his niece and nephew out of the grand room while withdrawing a Glock 17 handgun hidden in his coat. With gunfire pinging around them, Azuki and Louis make their hasty escape, leaving their uncle to fight off the incoming enemy forces. The contact they were to meet up with is [Your Character Here], a family friend as well as an associate with the Horns Conglomerate. This was their contact whom Oguma entrusted to keep them safe.

Being dragged by Azuki, Louis could barely keep up, almost losing his footing multiple times. Upon arriving at the car, they quickly climb inside and peel away from the underground parking lot in a desperate flight for freedom. Along the way, Louis wonders, “Azuki, how trustworthy is this contact of his? I’m still clueless on how these guys found us!”

“Just keep your head low and keep quiet until we get there, cousin. You will see the answers to your questions.” Azuki responded cryptically. (Escape Lane, $20)

YCH 8: “Hey Tao, can you and Bill help me out with some pointers? I want to learn how I can get better at driving.” Kibi stands in front of his silver / black Lotus Exige Sport 350 while on a video call with Tao and Bill. The small anteater has just racked up a new job in delivery driving and was asking around for advice. But during the call, a new figure suddenly enters the area, abruptly joining the session. (Making Deliveries, $30)

YCH 9: Following the disposal of the dangerous Kines energy drink from their lair, the Shishigumi began to take extensive measures to further prevent the drug from being distributed. Both Jinma and Ibuki worked together in taking the lead in this effort, Jinma due to his own accountability for attacking his own colleagues, and Ibuki due to his leadership status. One of the clients that requested their services is [Your Character Here], who has been following the distribution with rapt attention. (Danger Zone, $20)
