

Bruno VS Tank II!

Having just finished off battling against a hyper packed Stallion named Silver, Bruno the lonely fighter was on with his travels once more.

As he was riding on his motorcycle he couldn't help but to think back at not only what a crazy and downright insane fight against the Horse's almost snake like dick had been, but also on WHY that Horse had been challenging him to begin with.

He had said to Bruno that it had all been to avenge the one he truly loves.

Tank. The Cow with an udder as large as it's whole body!

Bruno had been fighting her a long time ago, but he still hasn't forgot a single detail about it.

It had been during an ambush on one of his journeys that he first got attacked by this big balled Dog fittingly named Bones, before then facing off against Tank herself.

Without a doubt she had easily been one of his most challenging foes ever, since not only was she huge but she was also really freaking strong.

While her weak spot was like with most other Cows her udder, Tank showed to have a surprisingly high amount of attacks coming from that thing.

What he recalled Tank could among other things shoot very accurate streams of milk, slam the whole thing down like a filled up sack, and even load up to fire a milk projectile that had the shape of her own head!

Despite him having milked her dry at the end of that fight Bruno knew very well that that never really spelled the end to any of his foes, making him always very determined to keep on moving and not stay in the same spot for to long.

Making a short stop at a nearby town Bruno made a quick visit to the local store to buy some supplies, before then leaving just as quickly. (In case he had followers that was tracking him.)

Getting back onto his bike and riding on Bruno decided to once more take a detour up through some mountains, since he knew that was terrain that would be pretty hard to track him through.

Looking around the place had a lot of tall natural stone pillars everywhere, but it didn't take long until he became forced into stopping his vehicle dead in it's tracks!

Cause standing right in front of him was someone that he REALLY had hoped he would never have to face again!

"Remember Moo?" A completely refilled and pissed looking Tank asked, as she was ready for a rematch now!

"Tank!" Bruno said to himself as he got off his bike and started to walk up slowly towards the towering Cow, still having the last fight with her fresh in his mind.

Tank on the other hand (or hoof) looked like she had been waiting so long to finally meet Bruno again, as she was lifting and teasing with her massive udder while asking, "Ready for Round Moo?"

Having no other choice then to accept Bruno placed himself into fighting position, as Tank didn't hold back one bit and started to swing and jiggle with her full milk sack around like it was a carousel! (Much to Bruno's utter shock!)

He knew that the Cow could do some crazy things with that udder of hers, but he didn't recall her ever swinging it around like a wrecking ball before!

Bruno tried his hardest to prevent himself from such an attack, but then Tank completely changed the game by making a giant leap into the air, and then pounding the poor Dog boy down hard under her heavy udder!

Tank wasn't holding back one bit this time around, as she was already attacking harder and much more stronger then Bruno ever recalled her doing the first time they met!

"Hope you like my milk, cause you wont make me leak anything again!" Tank shouted as she pressed Bruno firmly under her full weight, making the Doberman fighter feel how he was slowly getting crushed underneath.

He didn't already want to use some of his aura power, but he knew it was the only way for him to get free as he unleashed some of it's power.

All of the sudden Tank could feel a heavy bombarding of punches hitting her precious udder as it was slowly rising up, and it turned out to be all of Bruno's work, as he was punching her so fast and hard that he was making the whole udder lift itself and giving him a chance to get free from underneath her!

---

Getting back onto his feet Bruno was hoping that he would be given at least some time to catch his breath, but sadly Tank had no such plans in mind.

Instead the tubby Cow made her giant udder glow as she proclaimed "MILKY FURY STREAM!!!", before then unleashing a whole series of Bull-Head shaped masses of milk from her udder!

She had done this sort of thing last time they fought also, but that time she had only managed to produce one head like this, instead of what looked like an endless stream now!

"Is this...Aura?!" Bruno thought to himself in shock, before then having to start and survive against the onslaught of attacks coming his way!

Bruno had to jump, dodge, and even roll over to avoid getting knocked out by any of these milky projectiles, but even so there were just too many coming!

Eventually Bruno got hit square on by one of the Milk-Heads, which left him all soaked and exhausted on the ground.

Looking up Bruno's world was seen coming to an end as he saw Tank's giant udder up close, and on it's way to crush him for good!

"Any last Mooords?" Tank mocked as she came swinging down hard to finish Bruno off, who in return had to unleash yet another aura doze in order to stop the incoming udder!

Sending another armada of punches deep within the udder of Tank the Doberman fighter was trying his hardest to keep that thing from crushing him, just as much Tank was doing her best to slam that milk filled udder of hers down onto Bruno, both of which being locked into this battle of the auras!

Bruno just wanted to know how this was even possible?

How did Tank master the same type of energy that would help enhance the strength in such incredible ways?

"Just give up already! GIVE UP!!!" Tank could be heard yelling at Bruno, who's response was simply a "NEVER!!!" while still keeping that udder away.

Bruno then delivered one extra hard punch that sent Tank backwards a few feet, and looking very impressed by the sheer power that her much smaller opponent was carrying Tank decided to step it up a notch.

She did so by leaping up high into the air, and then landing her huge hind hooves onto one of the many stone pillars that was covering the place.

Bruno wasn't late to follow Tank's lead as he too leaped up onto a nearby pillar, with the two fighters now taking their epic battle to the skies instead!

Facing off against each other on a much more difficult terrain than before both Bruno and Tank didn't seem the least bit unbalanced by the task at hand, but instead more eager than ever before to win battle once and for all!

With both still glowing with aura neither of them wasted any time making a leap towards each other, resulting in a minor shock blast that sent them both backwards a good 20 feet.

Luckily both fighters ended up each on another pillar top, meaning that they could use the momentum to bounce right back for another go at the other one.

In midair Bruno could deliver a powerful kick right into the head of Tank, who would answer that by slap him across the face with her tail while being turned around by his original attack!

It was hard to believe that Tank was actually built like any other four legged Cow (Plus the Hyper sized udder, of course), as she was able to both jump, balance, and fight on a level equal to that of her much more agile looking foe.

Bruno also was at his absolute peak here, as his aura was making him a lot faster and stronger than he normally was, which in this case made him jump from pillar to pillar like he was high speed bullet almost!

But with Tank her aura didn't only make her able to even pull off a balancing act like this in the first place, but also helped making her already pretty fat frame a lot more thicker so that many of Bruno's attacks didn't even leave a mark on her.

What was already pretty obvious became even more clear now to him that the only way for Bruno to truly take Tank down was to hurt her where it would hurt most. (Which was her giant udder.)

Knowing he had to go all in with his attack on her Bruno waited for the perfect opening, before he then came leaping straight towards Tank's milk organ!

As he came flying towards her Bruno took and turned himself around in midair, as he came landing legs first into the udder as he planned on kicking it super hard.

But not just one kick as Bruno started delivering a whole bombardment of fast motion kicks into the udder, working its way deeper and deeper in as he was doing it at a non-stop rate to keep getting further in!

Eventually Bruno managed to send a deep kick right into the very sensitive middle spot of Tank's udder (Which was like a guy getting kicked right in the balls), and that was what finally made Tank loose some control over herself.

Letting out a huge "MOOOOO!!!!" as her udder started to spew out milk Tank's huge body got pushed back a bit by the milk shooting out, and that was enough to send her over the edge and falling back down onto the ground, as Bruno landed not far away from her.

Having managed to make the huge Cow temporarily defenceless Bruno wasted no time rushing over towards his tumbled over opponent, before then grabbing a hold onto the giant udder of Tank.

Feeling how the smaller hands of Bruno was gabbing onto her sensitive flesh the big Cow just gloated over what he was trying to do, saying that "I have become sooooo much stronger since last time we fought! If you think you will be able to milk me this time then you are really mooostaken!"

But Bruno didn't seem the least bit intimidated by the Cow's mockery, as his own determination was going to show her that his power levels was never something to underestimate!

Cleansing his fists deep into the flesh of Tank's udder Bruno started to meditate to himself, as he was working up for showing her just how strong he could become when he wanted to.

"You can try until the big fat Cow here goes home, but I wont give you a drip!" Tank said as she was just laying back, enjoying to witness how Bruno would fail to beat her all new and improved udder powers.

So one could imagine Tank's utter surprise when suddenly Bruno unleashed his full power, and squeezed her udder with such force that the milk came blasting!

Tank thought for sure that she had it all in the bag this time, and couldn't believe her own eyes when she saw her precious udder leaking like a sieve as Bruno was showing no mercy towards the Cow!

Once he felt like simply hugging it like last time wasn't going to cut it the Doberman leaped into the air, before then planting his feet almost waist deep into the udder for extra pressure!

And if that wasn't enough Bruno then grabbed onto two of the nearest teats of Tank, before then starting to milk her the old fashion way as well!

Tank had really been underestimated just how much power could be stored inside such a tiny body, as Bruno was going harder on her udder then she had ever felt anyone do before!

Not only that, but thanks to her own cockiness Tank had pretty much been giving Bruno the chance to end her, like it seems like he was on a very good way of doing.

As she was now laying on her back while all this was going on Tank was unable to do anything to stop Bruno's rampage over her milking parts, as the massive Cow could only let out heavy pants over feeling all of her energy and strength being drained along with her milk!

Closing her eyes and just begging for it to stop Tank could feel how her fat body was starting to deflate along with her udder, as she knew she was going to become one skinny Cow once this was all over.

Once she felt him finally stopped squeezing at her udder Tank open her eyes, and was horrified to see that he had managed to make her even skinner then last time they fought!

Looking now like she had been starving for months Tank's shock then moooved over to how empty and stretched out her udder looked now when it had barley any milk left in it!

Even Bruno had to admit that he was a bit surprised over just how strong he actually was, as he couldn't help but to chuckle a bit over just how much of Tank's powerful milk was now gone.

---

He was about to just leave Tank all dried out and defeated, but something about this particular fight still left him a bit puzzled.

Seeing how Tank was no longer posing any real threat to him in her current stage Bruno all casually walked over to the Cow's head, and said to her "I didn't know you also possessed Aura powers like that." before then admitting that if she wasn't trying to do such evil things with her powers then he would even consider teaming up with her.

"Are you just trying to just mock me now, and use the fact that I am too tired to fight back?" Tank asked as Bruno told her, "Not at all. I'm just curious on why you chose to take the path of crime and villainy, when clearly you must at some point have been trained by a real master?"

Tank really knew there was no point in trying to make Bruno leave so she instead started to clean as she told him, "I was once trained in a very respectful temple, but because of some small incident of me misusing my powers I was banned from ever training with them again. After that I ended up in some bad company, and still pretty sour from those high and mighty I decided to use my powers for my own benefits."

"But if I would be offering you to come along me on my journeys as a companion and friend?" Bruno asked as he even reached out a hand for the fallen Tank, who was seen biting her lip a bit as she eventually returned his gesture, as he then used that to help pull her up to sit on her (still pretty curvy) butt.

"But if I am to join you I need you to do one thing for me, and that is to defeat the one known as the "Farm King", since he is the one who helped train many of my udder attacks, and the one I am pretty much owed to right now."

"So if I help break you free from your old Boss then you would be joining me?" Bruno asked as he then offered Tank some grass to help get her energy back, as she told him that she would become "Loyal" to him, but not wanting to promise anything further until then.

With his goal set of trying to see if he could help break Tank free from a life of crime they both now set out to try and challenge the one keeping the big Cow in charge.

The Farm King!