Bruno VS Scooby!

Heading towards the local fighting arena, Bruno was pretty intrigued.

He had been getting a fight request via mail from a big dog fighter, known by many as "The Devourer", due to him having an appetite that was matching his size pretty well.

Arriving to the place the stories sure wasn't lying about his opponent, as awaiting for him was this MASSIVE canine dressed in traditional sumo gear, and munching on some grilled chicken.

"Rook ryou rong renough." The big dog said while taking another bite, having this weird thing of adding an "R" at the start of every word he mentioned.

A quick glance onto the emblem attached to the big dog's outfit Bruno could make out the letters "S-D", which clearly had to be the initials of his opponent.

"I'm sorry for keeping you waiting." Bruno said before making a small bow in apology, as the obese dog just kept on stuffing his face with food.

"Excuse me, Mr...?" Bruno asked while waiting for the much bigger dog to respond, as he answered back "Scooby. Scooby-Doo."

"Mr. Doo." Bruno then said. "I assume you heard stories about my many previous fights, or else you wouldn't be here now?"

"Reah." Scooby said as he grabbed another giant drumstick. "Reard ryou rhere righting roes ralmost ry rize."

"Maybe not AS big as you, but..." Bruno said, not sure if he had just been giving the big guy a compliment, or an insult on his weight.

Scooby seemed to take it as something positive, since for him it only meant this would be his chance to prove himself.

"Rhich ris rhy RI'm rere ro rove rhat RI'm rhe riggest, rand rhe rest!" Scooby said, as he let out a massive burp before then tossing the now empty chicken bucket aside.

Getting back onto his feet Bruno got a chance to take in just how freaking tall this guy was along with all of his mass, as Scooby was standing easily at least 12 feet in height!

Seeing the stunned looked on Bruno's face Scooby smiled a bit as he asked, "Rot rcaring ryou, ram RI?"

"Not at all." Bruno replied calmly. "Always surprises me a bit which how much larger you guys keeps getting for me."
"Retty rure ryou ron't rind romsone rho ran ratch ry revel!" Scooby said while slapping his gigantic chicken filled tummy, making it wobble and shake a lot as he did.

"I have to admit. I am pretty excited about seeing what you are all about, big guy!" Bruno said as he also entered the ring, ready to fight his opponent.

With the match starting Scooby looked more then overly confident, as he patted his huge middle and asked Bruno to "Rive rit ryour rest!"

Bruno wasn't late to take on that invite as charged head on towards the giant Great Dane, and immediately delivered a fast series of heavy punches into the big gut!

He hadn't been expecting such a tiny guy to pack so much power, as Scooby looked more then a little stunned over feeling how several of those punches went really deep into his thick layers of fat!

"To thought for you, big guy?" Bruno asked a bit cocky, as he just kept on laying down his storm of fists all over the bigger dog's belly.

Knowing he had to do something to stop this assault towards his middle Scooby briefly sucked in his gut, before then ballooning it out with enough force to knock Bruno off his feet.

Having been taken off guard briefly Bruno looked up to expect see Scooby trying to stop at him or something, but instead he witnessed now the huge mutt decided to turn himself around and face away from his foe.

At first Bruno didn't understand what was going one, but once Scooby's wide rear end was fully on display and starting to fall down towards him it became all to clear!

Trying desperately to crawl himself backwards Bruno found himself being a little bit to late, as Scooby came CRUSHING down onto his opponent with his heavy bottom!

With a loud "SLAM!!!" the fat butt of Scooby completely ate up the smaller dog, hiding Bruno completely within the depths of his cheeks!

"Rou rad renough row?" Scooby asked with lots of self-confidence, before then feeling an intense pressure building up from deep within his butt. (and he wasn't feeling gassy.)

Suddenly Bruno came shooting out like a bullet, glowing from the aura energy he was using in order to increase his own strength temporarily, and give back at Scooby!

Once free Bruno made a leap back towards Scooby's thick rump, as he landed firmly on top of it, with one foot resting on each cheek, before then taking a firm grip around the massive dog's sumo clothing, and pulling it hard to give the obese fatass one hell of an annoying wedgie to deal with!
Feeling like a particular low blow for his opponent to go with Scooby demanded of Bruno to stop what he was doing, but that only motivated the Doberman into doing it even harder!

Giving an extra hard pull Bruno was able to make all of Scooby do a flip into the air, before having him land hard onto the ring floor onto his back!

Having barley taken in what had just happen to him Scooby then saw how Bruno lit up like a rocket, before then jumping high into the air.

At first he had no clue on what was going on, before then seeing the smaller dog coming back down towards him, while also having one of his almost fire burning fists being the first thing coming straight towards that already soften up gut of his!

Realizing what was coming towards him Scooby could only say "Ruh-Roh!", and embrace himself for impact!

When truly using his full strength one punch from Bruno would be enough to end most opponents, and Scooby could now add himself onto that long list of beaten foes.

Upon impact Scooby could feel an intense shockwave going through himself, as it felt like car, train, and airplane had all crashed into him at once!

And that was now even counting all the brushes and marks it gave, as the bigger dog could also smell how some of his belly fur was a bit burnt now from the centre of the blast.

Most shocking of all was despite it just being mostly fat on his big frame, Bruno's hit had managed to be so hard that there was still a bit of a pit formed into his stomach, that was still fully visible!

It always felt pretty great for Bruno to have defeated a much larger foe, but he was still a true gentleman as he helped the now pretty dizzy looking Scooby back onto his feet.

Bruno let his know that despite having to use a good chunk out of his aura Scooby Doo had managed to be probably one of the strongest fighters he had ever faced, as the big Great Dane couldn't help but to giggle a little bit over the compliment.

"Rant ro rave ra rictory real?" Scooby asked, as while not wanting to risk end up as big as that guy Bruno decided to take the massive dog on his offer.
