It had now been 2 weeks since Blake and Blue met in the forest open area and the college season was just around the corner for Blake. It was actually on the up coming Monday. During the two weeks, the duo mostly just hung out and visited the various sites of the city. They went out to the mall to buy some clothes for Blue instead of him having to wear Blake's old clothes all the time. Blake also showed Blue around the neighborhood. They went to the grocery store, the park, the library, the gym, and other places like stores and restaurants. This was all for just in case Blue needed something while Blake was away at school. Wave also joined in on most of the days but sometimes had work at the beach.

There were also many noms throughout the week.....many....many noms. But it was all good fun and it helped them get "closer" to each other. And yes it was always Blue getting nommed by either the wolf or the orca. Whether one of the friend's belly was to be a bed for the night or if either of them wanted a midday snack, Blue would find himself in a big belly one way or another. But he didn't mind.

He was starting to enjoy it more and was even opening up a bit to his new friends. He was even getting used to hugging or even snuggling, which he enjoyed - I mean didn't enjoy at all. But....

...throughout the weeks, Blue felt as he was being watched. Especially at night. He was usually able to have fun throughout the day, but that feeling came back whenever he was alone. He told Blake and Wave about it and they promised to do their best in keeping an eye out and protecting their buddy.

Alas the first day of school came for Blake and Wave. They had some of the same classes and the first day was only orientation and introductions to the classes. They also had sport practice after school. The two guys said their goodbyes to Blue and went on their way. Which meant Blue....was alone.

“Okay. Let’s see....”

Blue decided to check if there was anything that he needed to get from the store. They were running out of cereal so Blue was planning to go to the store anyway. It looked like they needed eggs, milk, some veggies, and snacks.

Blue promptly got his keys that Blake had gotten him earlier, his wallet, a reusable bag, put on some outside clothes and went off to the store.

Meanwhile, watching from atop the roof of the condo, was a Lucario. This lucario was bigger than regular lucario, and look a bit more “anthro”. It was wearing black shorts, a black vest of shorts, and a small red bandana on its right ear. It was quite built in terms of muscle and stood at about eight feet, three inches.

The lucario was currently watching the human in silence. It would occasionally jump from building to building as Blue moved down the streets. It's facial expression was serious. It followed Blue all the way to the grocery store. As the human walked in, the lucario hid in the nearby alleyway and waiting for the human to come out.

.....

“Here’s your receipt. Thank you for shopping with us!”

“Thank you!”

“Ok. Got everything. Now just gotta go ho-“

“Mmm-“

Blue’s mouth was suddenly covered by something fuzzy and he was dragged into an alleyway. Everything was moving too fast for him to tell who or what was grabbing him. All he could see was flashes of blue.

The lucario had jumped out at the human the moment he saw him pass the alleyway. As he reached out, the lucario grew to ten feet in order to better carry the human. He immediately began bounding from wall to wall to get to the roof of the buildings. Once he was up there, he rushed to his house.

It didn't take long for the pokemon to reach his home. He jumped through an open window and placed the human down on his couch. he stood a bit back and waited for the human to recover. While he waited, he shrunk back down to his original height.

Blue slowly began to catch his breath.

(My groceries!)

Blue looked around. His groceries were sitting neatly in order on a table not too far from where he was.

(Oh. Thank goodness. Wait. Who grabbed me?)

He turned his head around and saw who his captor was.

The lucario stood there. His facial expression as serious as before and arms crossed over his chest.

“Hello human”.

Blue didn't exactly know what to say in this situation.

“U-umm. H-hello”

“Just to get it out of the way, I don't plan on hurting you in any way”.

“W-wait. What's going on?”

“Let me explain”.

The Lucario then began explaining everything to Blue. Apparently, his name was Luke, but he said the human could call him Rio. He was the one who was keeping an eye on the human which is why Blue felt as if he was being watched. The lucario had been watching him for about a week and half now and he had a mission to bring Blue to his boss. Rio didn't know what the boss wanted but he was determined to get his mission done.

This was Rio's last mission. He wanted to leave his work and be on his own for a while and possibly never go back. He wanted to go to school. Travel. Meet new people. And hopefully make new friends. The Pokémon spoke quite bluntly and he reassured Blue that he had no intention of doing anything bad to him, despite his actions. But the lucario did mention that he had somewhat grown quite fond of Blue as he watched him and even said he would go with Blue to his boss, if Blue would like. The lucario even asked Blue if he could eat him but also completely understood if the human said no. He did kind of capture him after all.

“well....you do seem rather genuine...so...as long I don't get digested, I guess I'm okay with it”.

Lucario nodded.

“No harm will come to you human.”

Rio then began to grow up until about fifty feet. That seemed to be the height for most preds to eat Blue. He slowly lowered his paw to let Blue climb on. Blue slowly walked onto the middle of the paw and the lucario raised it to eye level.

The lucario gave Blue a quick lick before opening his maw and softly tossing Blue in, sealing his mouth shut behind behind the human. The flavor immediately pooling out onto the tongue.

“mmmmmm”

A rare, small smile formed on the lucario’s face. he gently moved the human around the tongue to take in as much taste as possible. moments later, his stomach growled, reminding him of how hungry he was. Rio tipped his head backwards and swallowed.

glrk

Down Blue traveled into the depths of the Pokémon. He was covered with saliva from head to toe, which made his decent smoother. It wasn't too long until he found himself entering the giant Lucario's belly. Blue made his way over to one of the stomach walls and laid against it.

“Hmmmmm. You were quite delicious human.”

“U-um. t-thank you”.

Blue was still uncertain how to take compliments on his...taste.

“Hmm. I can see why your friends like to eat you...”

“....would...you mind if I ate you again sometime?”

“s-sure. maybe after all this with your boss gets sorted out tho.”

The Lucario nodded.

Blue and Rio soon started chatting. They chatted for hours about life, their plans, how Blue got to the universe, Rio's past and other things. Blue began to let his guard down a bit and started feeling a bit more relaxed. He was still a bit suspicious about the Pokémon but now that they talked a bit more, he was feeling more at ease. Even if he didn't show it, Rio was also a bit worried about the human perceived him considering his previous actions but they both talked it out and cleared things up.

The lucario was secretly happy to have someone to talk to. He was usually alone most of the time since much of his time was on his missions. But now he had made a friend as he began a new part of his life outside of pure work. Blue even said that lucarios were one of his favorite Pokémon in his universe which made the lucario smile inside.

The time finally came for Rio to bring Blue to his boss. They had decided that Rio would accompany Blue and make sure the boss wasn't planning anything evil. If the boss was, they would make a run for it.

Rio let Blue out to shower and prepared some old clothes for the human to wear. He himself went to the kitchen to prepare some food for the two of them since they both hadn't eaten for the whole day. Well, besides the lucario eating Blue that is.

Soon enough Blue finished his shower and the both chatted as they ate the mac n cheese Rio made. It had been a while since Blue had had mac n cheese so he was quite happy having it for dinner.

“Ready to go?”

“Yeah”

The two headed out the door of Rio's house and caught the train to the forest open area.

In order to make the trip across the plains and hills shorter, Rio grew and carried blue in his paw. It didn't take long for the two of them to reach a huge cave, deep inside the forest. The sun was starting to set and the sky was full of purples, blues, and fleeting yellows as the duo approached the entrance.

“Stay close. I'll lead you to the boss's room”.

Blue slowly follow behind.

The cave was almost completely dark, the only light being some soft red glows from the wall. It didn't sound like other Pokémon were around so all one could hear were Blue's footsteps echoing in the cave. Rio's steps were pretty quiet.

They traveled a bit longer like this until a few turns later, some more light could be seen.

As they got closer, Blue was able to see moonlight coming in from the ceiling. It was shining in various spots around the huge cavern in the cave.

Soon, the two entered the spacious cavern. And there before them sat the boss....

A yveltal.

Like lucario, the yveltal was a bit more “anthro” in shape than regular yveltal. It’s wings were huge and it was also quite muscular. It had a smirk plastered on its face and they eyes followed the smaller two as they walked.

.....

“I have brought the human sir”.

“Good work Agent L”

The yveltal voice wasn't tremendously deep, but it still had a bit of fullness to it.

Blue only kept quiet as Lucario continued.

“If I may ask sir, what do you plan on doing to the human?”

.....

a deep chuckle came from the yveltal.

“well of course, the answer is simple: I’m going to EAT him”.

Blue’s eyes rose with fear. Lucario kept calm.

“Are you going to digest him?”

“Wha-W-well. no. but that’s not the point! ur supposed to be scared!”

Both Blue and Rio gave the legendary Pokémon a “look”.

“Just- please let me have this!”

The yveltal had clasped its hands as if it was pleading.

“Have you done this with everyone that’s been brought to you”.

“....yeahhh. but I’ve never had someone ask me what I was going to do!”

Rio face palmed.

Blue softly spoke up.

“If it makes you feel better, I was a bit scared”.

“..really?”

“yeah. I didn’t know whether I was going to die or not!”

“Oh. Well. despite my reputation and my name, I never hurt my prey. I’m a good loyal, abiding citizen”.

Blue gave another look

“Aren’t you supposed to ask before you eat someone?”

“.....touché.”

Blue had a cheeky look on his face :3

siiigh

“Guess there’s no way around this...”

“human.”

“.....can I.....eat you.....”

“.....please.....”

Blue paused for a second

“Sure yveltal.”

The bird Pokémon made its way towards Blue while also growing as he approached. It then put out his large wing for the human to stand on.

Blue promptly got on and soon found himself face to face with a hungry legendary Pokémon. It slowly opened its beak, showing the darker tongue and quite sharp teeth as Blue was slowly moved toward it. Once Blue was safely inside, yveltal shut his mouth behind Blue and started taking in the human’s flavor.

It was quite warm in the Pokémon's maw. Not a bad warm but rather a comfy warm. Blue simply laid down on his back and let the Pokémon do its thing. He was swished about and wrapped around by the tongue until he found himself partway in the throat.

glrk

It only took one strong swallow for the little human to make his way into throat and down into yveltals chest.

“Ahhhhh~”

Blue's journey came to an end as he slowly plopped into the Pokémon's vast stomach. As he usually did, he made his way to the stomach wall and laid against it.

“Mmmm~ you were quite tasty human. I definitely have to do this again”.

It was at this point that lucario spoke up

“I think we better get going. I think Blues friends will be worried”.

“Oh no! I didn’t let Blake or Wave know where I was!”

“It’s ok human, I can fly you back. Coming Lucario?”

Lucario nodded. And quickly jumped onto Yveltal’s back. The trio soon set off, out the cave and forest and into the now starry night sky.

.....

.....

“Mmm.”

“Blue hasn’t texted us or responded to us all day. I hope he’s okay”.

“Yeah. Practice ran a bit late but we’re close to the building. We should see him soon”.

After a bit more walking, Blake and Wave were nearing the entrance of the condo building when they saw...

“Hmmm?...”

“Wait. Is that?”

“A yveltal!”

.....

ffffwoof

ffffwoof

ffffwoof

ffffwoof

tck

Yveltal landed right at the entrance of the condo building just as the wolf and orca duo were arriving.

Lucario hopped off.

“Ehm. Blue is with us. He’s safe in yveltal’s stomach. It’s a bit of long story. May we come in?”

.....

“Umm. Sure.”

It was a bit of an awkward ride up the elevator for the four but soon enough they reached Blake’s condo and all met at the living room.

Lucario was the first to talk.

“my name is Luke, but you can call me Rio. I will admit that I was the one who was looking at Blue and who earlier today brought him to my home. I...ate him....but I promise you I had no ill intentions. As I explained to Blue, I had grown fond of him after a while. But nevertheless, I am sorry for what my actions may have implied.”

He gave a short apologetic bow

The duo then looked at the yveltal.

“Ehm. I’m yveltal. To get it out the way, I also have no intentions of hurting the human or ever hurting him or any of you. I...was the one who told Lucario to bring him to me....and I....also ate him. But...I think after today, I’ll try asking others instead of forcing them... I’m....sorry”.

The yveltal also gave a small bow of apology.

“Uhm. Blue...is this true?”

“Yeah. I’m sorry for not letting you know earlier! that’s completely on me. I will admit that I was a bit suspicious of these guys but they kept their promises and didn’t hurt me”.

The room went quiet.

“Well....this was certainly a surprise. But if Blue is okay with you two, then we’ll give ya a chance too”.

The two Pokémon nodded.

“We greatly appreciate it

The five of them then started to know each other a bit better over some snacks and video games, which neither of the Pokémon had ever played before. The four “preds” got along rather well and soon the heavier mood was replaced with a chill one. Blake even invited Lucario to school after hearing about his plans and the Pokémon graciously accepted. All five of them decided to exchange numbers and share locations in case something like this ever happened again.

Eventually, it was time to let Blue out. Yveltal went over to get a wet towel ready while Wave got the shrink ray. Blue was met with a toothy grin and one last taste from Yveltal. Soon Blue was back to normal. He quickly left to take a quick shower before saying goodbye to his new Pokémon friends he had made.

“Bye guys! See you around”.

“Bye Blue. See you soon.”

Blue shut the door and turned around. Only to be met by some smirking friends.

“Uh- wha-“

“You know....I think u might need a bit of belly jail time after today~”

“I- I’m sorry guys. After getting groceries I forgot to check my phone completely!”

The two only ruffled the human’s hair

“We forgive you little bud”.

“It was an accident. And I think we’ve all had a bit of a interesting evening”.

Blue nodded.

“But anyways about that belly jail~”

(Oh no)

After that. Blue had to serve up his sentence of three nights in EACH preds belly. Which the preds certainly enjoyed.

:3

Hallo all! This is my fifth and I think longest entry in this little series. I honestly wasn't too happy with how this was going at first but I tried to make it into something that makes at least some sense! And yeah! Hope y'all enjoy it and Thanks for reading!
