- Back Story: Jett was raised by a single mother and the middle child of five. Jett was a smart but reserved kid in class, choosing to mainly read than spend time with his peers. He developed many interests in older items and enjoys thrifting for these items. He kept his headphones and MP3 Player close to him and would almost always be seen with them on, rock and metal music blasting from them. Due to being the middle child, he was commonly overlooked and so he spent most of his time in his room researching, as he grew older he began to explore his sexual interests and discovered ABDL. He liked to wear but didn't wanna act like a baby, he preferred to make others act like babies. He now spends his nights at work as a retail worker for a small trinket shop and in his free time, he enjoys exploring his fantasies with subs.
