Killua was born on October 14, 2003 to his two Upright Wolf parents TK and Kalida, in the deep forest of Yoyogi Park. When Killua was about a year old, he was kidnapped by a group of vampires & when his parents tried to put up a fight to protect him, they were killed. He was experimented on, tortured, beaten, and trained up for years till his 8th birthday, when he was considered "ready" for the bite.

On October 14, 2011, Killua was invited into Count Strahd Von Zarovich's chambers where he recieved the "bite of transformation" in an attempt to make him part of the organization and one of his minions, to be like his late brother Sergei. But like many other of Strahd's attempts, Killua's transformation took a turn for the worst.

He grew deathly sick and in an attempt to save his life, his minions forced Killua to drink from the "Fur of Youth Fountain", which contained an antidote to cure the sickness, but it's curse that Strahd brewed in the fountain is that you are forever stuck at the age of which you drank from the fountain, therefore Killua was forever stuck in the body of an 8 year old pup.

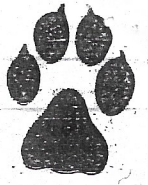

The night the incident happened was forever to be known of Killua's cursed age regression, he managed to sneak his way out of Count Strahd's castle in the middle of the night. Using his heightened senses, he found his way through the marsh and into the wilderness, where he soon collapsed, passing out in extreme exhaustion.

A little time passed, and Killua was waking up as he was being carried on the back of the dire wolf. As he was coming too, his neck and head hurt really bad from not only the transformation, but the bite as well. Not only that, but he was soaked around his pants, reeking of urine and ammonia.

The Dire Wolf seemed a little annoyed that his fur was all matted with this kids scent all over him, but he felt a weird, needed connection to Killua. Killua instantly felt ~~safe~~ safe, falling back asleep on the dire wolf's back.

The next time he awoke, it was near dawn as the sun was coming up. He was layed up in what looked to be a tribal tent of some sorts. As he arose up and started to get up to stand, he noticed that he was practically naked but the only thing he was wearing was a diaper. The curse has not only forced him to be forever young, but forever incontinent as well.

As he stepped out, he noticed a few different upright wolves around looking a little different than him walking around. They were half human, half wolf, and smelled differently. He looked around to find the dire wolf that carried him. He was being tended too by one of the human upright wolves.

"Where am I?" he asked.

"You are in the deep woods of Shiba Park young one. You are safe now. Come. Join me child," Killua heard in his mind as the dire wolf looked at him laying out in the sun.

"What happened to me?" he whined as he walked closer.

"You'll learn in due time young one. I found you deep in the wilderness faraway from here. You peed on my back while you were unconscious, so I had my pups clean you up, along with my fur," he said in Killua's head as he let out a snarl.

The Dire Wolf revealed his name as Fenrir. He offered Killua to rest with him on his back as he walked around introducing him to his two $\frac{1}{2}$ wolf demon pups Betowolf and Daxter Snowpaw.

So for the next 5 years, he never grew in stature, but he was still aging, to the age of 13 and he was training and learning the skills he knows today as he is now attending Tokyo High School.
